A note from Elder F. M. Tindler states he is having a big meeting with crowds at every service, but will return home Saturday night and fill the pulpit at the Christian church Sunday morning.

Coburn's Greater Minstrel Show which played at Romans' Opera House Saturday night was greatly enjoyed by a crowded house. The famous singer, Lester Lucens, who is a great favorite here was with them as was also several black face comedians, singers and dancers.

The Presbyterian General Assembly had decided in future to ordain no man for the ministry who uses tobacco. The old men who are enslaved by the weed may still chew the cud or burn incense to their idol, but the young, on-coming preachers must all be free men.

NICKLE CLUB

Charity supper to be given by the "Nickel Club" at Paint Lick at the Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 20th. Admission 25cts.

PIE SUPPER

For the benefit of the school a pie supper will be given at Sycamore School house next Saturday night. Prizes will be given away, pies for everybody and everybody invited.

BRYANTSVILLE RALLY

Hon. Audrey F. Adkins, of Covington, will address the citizens of Bryantville next Monday night. We predict a good hearing for him in this thriving hamlet of lower Garrard. Hon. R. H. Tomlinson will preside at this meeting and introduce the speaker of the evening.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING

Hon. S. H. Kash of Corbin, Ky., will speak in the interest of the Republican Ticket at the Court House in Lancaster, at 1:30 p. m., and at Paint Lick at 7:30 p. m., on Saturday, October 21st. Mr. Kash is a splendid speaker, and everybody is invited to hear him.

Republican County Committee.

BUYING MULES

Mr. R. H. Price, of Townville, S. C. has been in the city for the past week buying mules for the southern market and has just shipped two car loads which he bought of Messrs. R. I. R. L. and W. B. Burton at prices ranging from $125 to $200. Twelve of the bunch he purchased of R. L. Burton, that averaged about $184.00 a head.

RESIGNS AS DEPUTY CLERK

Mr. Ed M. Walker, after four years or more of efficient service as deputy county clerk, resigned his position last Saturday and will move with his estimable wife to Davton O, where he has accepted a lucrative position. Mr. Walker made an ideal official, being always affable and agreeable and the friends of both he and Mrs. Walker will regret to know that they will leave our city.

DR. GANFIELD TO SPEAK.

Friday evening the 27th Dr. Ganfield, President of Central College will speak to the citizens of the town and county at the Court House, on the subject, "What Makes a Town Worth Living In?". This address will be entirely free, no collection taken. It is through the work of the Civic Club that Dr. Ganfield has been invited to speak. Don't miss this opportunity.

W. C. T. U.

"Good Citizenship" was the topic under discussion at the W. C. T. U. Saturday afternoon. Public spirit is an interest in the welfare of others, a desire to better the material and moral conditions of the community. It is patriotism applied to local conditions. Every citizen should take an interest in public affairs, good citizens should encourage good officers and help them do their duty. Citizenship is a responsibility. The ballot box presents a duty. "He serves his party best who serves the country best, nothing is politically right which is morally wrong". "A politician thinks of the next election, a statesman of the next generation."

SILVER TEA.

The Ladies Missionary Society will hold their annual Silver Tea at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, October 31st, Hallowe'en. Everybody is cordially invited. 10-19-2t.

RALLY AT NINA.

There will be a Democratic rally at Nina school house this evening, beginning at seven o'clock. Several prominent speakers of local fame will address this meeting and quite a good crowd will attend from this section.

SMITH PROPERTY SELLS

The resident property advertised by Mr. J. W. Smith was sold publicly last Saturday afternoon and as the property was so desirable a number of bidders developed during the sale. It was finally knocked off to Dr. J. S. Gilbert for $3875.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT

The concert given by the young children of the L. O. O. F. home of Lexington, at the Auditorium last Friday evening proved to be one of the most delightful entertainments of the season. The house was practically filled and the door receipts amounted to nearly $75.

FARM SELLS

Dr. J. A. Amos, sold to Mr. Joe Kelly, the farm of Mrs. N. E. Kelly containing 103 acres, for $10,000, possession to be given January 1st. This is considered one of the best producing farms in that section and competent judges of land say the price is a reasonable one.

PROGRESSIVE CITY.

We have just received a copy of the Daily Press, of Paragould, Arkansas, sent by our good friend, Mrs. W. A. Yantis, of that city. It shows what a wonderful progressive city has developed through its public spirited citizens and looks almost tempting enough for a Kentuckian to seek a home there.

CAR OVERTURNS.

While returning from the Roosevelt speaking at Stanford last night, Mr. H. Clay Sutton had the misfortune to overturn his car at the White Oak lane, but fortunately none of the occupants were hurt in the least. In the car with Mr. Sutton, was Mrs. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Marksberry and Mr. E. W. Morrow. Aside from a broken windshield and a bent top, the car is not seriously damaged. This is the third accident at this lane in the last two years.

A GOOD ORDINANCE.

We notice where, in Shelbyville, the City council has given property owners fair notice that the ordinance prohibiting the burning of leaves on the streets of the city will be strictly enforced. It was also announced that the city would haul off the leaves twice weekly, if property owners would collect them in piles at convenient places. We wonder how many people knew how unhealthy the burning of leaves is to say nothing of the disagreeable smell and danger to property. See medical journals as to unhealthfulness.

BIG LAND DEAL.

Colonel I. M. Dunn, one of the local real estate men, put over another big land deal yesterday. He sold Mr. J. C. Rankin's farm to Mr. G. V. Pence and the papers were signed yesterday. The farm is located in Garrard county, about nine miles from Danville, and two miles from Marcellus. It is known as the Mort Robinson farm, and the tract sold contains a fraction over 142 acres. The consideration was $123.50. This makes the third time Col. Dunn has sold this farm, the first time to Mr. L. McClure at $100 per acre, later to Mr. Rankin at $105, and again for $123.50.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKING

And Rally Next Monday At Court House.

The Campaign Committee has made arrangements with the Hon. Audrey F. Adkins, of Kenton county, to speak in the court house at Lancaster next Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Adkins is a young lawyer of Covington Ky. was one of the leaders of the Progressive party four years ago, and this year was a delegate from the state-at-large to the National Progressive Convention, which was held in Chicago on the seventh day of last June. He is now supporting President Wilson and will make a speech that every Democrat and former Progressive should hear. Mr. Adkins will speak at Paint Lick Tuesday night.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Revival Drawing Splendid Audiences.

The revival which began at the Baptist church last week continues with unabated interest and the church is crowded to its capacity at every evening service, beside being comfortably filled at the morning meetings. Rev. Smylie is preaching some strong sermons and together with the splendid music, much good should develop from these services which will continue throughout the week.

Lancaster Is Out Of Water. A Mass Meeting Is Called.

Men and women of Lancaster are urged to assemble at the Court House Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock to consider what shall be done. It may be weeks before you have any more water from the lake. The future is more serious than the present. Its your business. You must solve the problem. Don't fail to attend this meeting. L. G. Davidson, Mayor of Lancaster.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Albert Heathman Is Killed And English Dunn Severely Cut And Bruised When Ford Turns Turtle.

Danville was thrown into great excitement Friday night shortly after six o'clock when the information was telephoned in from the home of Mr. John Baughman, on the Lexington pike, that a bad automobile mishap had occurred near his house.

Several automobiles were at once dispatched to the scene to render every aid possible, and take the injured men to the hospital. Mr. Heathman, who was critically injured, expired just after he reached the hospital, only drawing one or two breaths. He never regained consciousness. His head was mashed in and it is believed also that his neck was broken by the terrific impact.

Mr. Dunn was found not seriously hurt, though he had a gash over the eye that was stitched up, and several other minor bruises. He will be all right in a few days, though he is suffering much from the great shock to his nervous system.

It is not known exactly what caused the accident, except that Mr. Dunn, who was at the wheel, admitted that he was running at terrific speed. The car which turned turtle, was badly demolished.

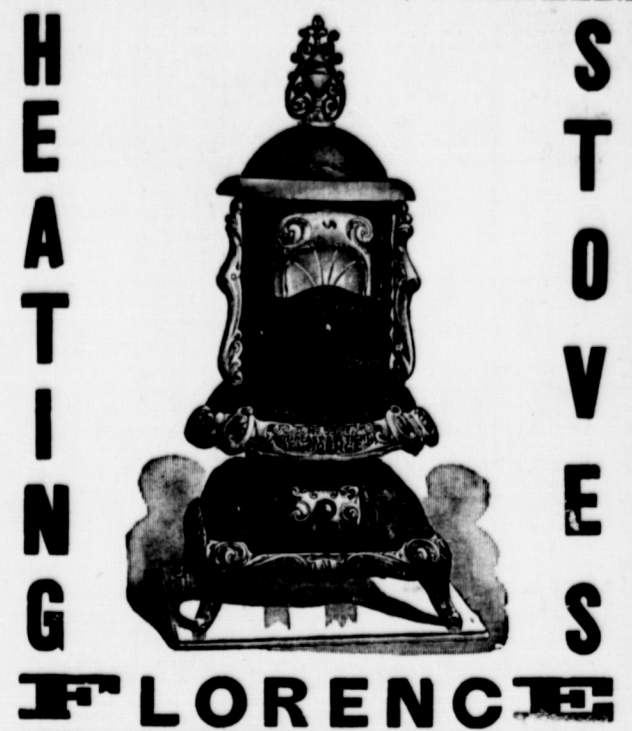

Great sympathy is extended the family of Mr. Heathman as he was a most exemplary young man. The many friends of Col. and Mrs. Ike Dunn and English also deplore the sad accident.

SPLENDID AUDIENCE

Greet Governor-Elect Chas. H. Brough Monday Night. Masterful Address Popularly Received.

One of the most representative audiences that has ever assembled to hear a public speaker, was presented Monday night in the Lancaster court house to listen to the convincing arguments, oratory and entertainment furnished by Governor elect, Chas. H. Brough, of Arkansas. Gov. Brough is a fluent speaker; he is a convincing speaker, and it may be said to his credit, one of the fairest speakers his large and appreciative audience ever listened to. The issues of the national campaign were discussed by him in a most masterful manner. He did not criticize his opponents in politics, but rather gave them the credit of being as honest in their belief as is he himself. He did not indulge in billingsgate but chose the most refined and courteous terms when referring to republican leaders and voters. Gov. Brough is an orator of no mean ability, and his audience was charmed and delighted with his speech. Many times he would drift off into flights of oratory and word-painting that were beautiful, and effective in their application. "My wife is a Kentuckian" he said, "and all that I am, or will ever be, is due to her." He paid many handsome and deserved compliments to the town of Lancaster and Garrard county, adding that he felt sure that the voters would recognize the worth of their present chief executive and the great service he has done for the country at large. He predicted the election of President Wilson by a big majority.

Gov. Brough has just returned from an extended trip through the north, making campaign speeches in the interest of the present administration. He said that the popularity of Mr. Wilson was increasing daily, even the states of Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin would come into the Democratic fold in the November election. The visit of Gov. Brough will be long remembered by those who were fortunate enough to hear him Monday night. He is a genial, wholesome, scholarly gentleman who is well posted on the political questions of the day. He left Monday night to fill a series of engagements throughout central Kentucky. His tour will unquestionably count many votes for Mr. Wilson and the democratic party.

IT'S THREE YEARS OLD But Mrs. Walter Says It's Just as Good Today as When It Was First Made.

Three years ago Mrs. Walter testified to complete relief from kidney ills. Later she says that there has not been the slightest return of the trouble, Lancaster sufferers will take a deal of comfort in Mrs. Walter's statement. Read what she says:

Mrs. B. F. Walter, Hill St., Lancaster, says: "Whenever my back becomes lame and painful, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at R. E. McRoberts & Son's Drug Store, bring me instant relief. At one time I feared that I had serious kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were unnatural and gave unmistakable evidence of disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills in a short time made my kidneys normal."

HASN'T SUFFERED SINCE. OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mrs. Walter said: "My kidneys have been in excellent condition since giving my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Walter has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green's Baby, Wm. Wm. F. Babbitt says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarce.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness, tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

PREACHERSVILLE

Miss Dolly Ballard, the 14-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ballard, is critically ill of typhoid fever.

J. M. Cress bought two calves from Wilson King at $20 each, 5 hogs of 180 lbs average from Mr Goodwin at $8.

Mrs. America Sowder, aged about 65 years, died near White's Mills last week. She was a good woman and liked by all.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church closed last week. There were some 14 additions. Rev. J. W. Beagle the pastor did the preaching.

About six weeks ago a nice 275 lb hog was lost out of a drove, belonging to Mr. J. M. Cress, while being driven to Rowland from the farm here. All inquiry and search failed to locate the missing porker. Last week W. T. Blankenship, head stock driver for Mr. Cress, found the lost swine less than 10 feet from the highway in plain sight where it had been all the time. While being crowded along by the drove it had fallen into a sink hole just at the end of a culvert which had been blind with drift and mud for some time. The hog was in a prison about 3 feet wide and 3 feet deep. It had subsisted all this time on the bark of sycamore roots and at times of drought only had a small amount of water to drink. When rescued it was lean, lank and looked very repulsive. Good nursing, strict dieting and liberty may make a hog of him again. A few days before young Blankenship had noticed a hog in this place but that it was only a roadside ranger and could regain the highway by walking back thru the culvert.

The stone residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Herring just over the line in Garrard near here, burned about eight o'clock Saturday night. The family were away from home at the time. Neighbors rushed to the scene but all attempts to save much failed, so intense was the heat and smoke. Of the contents very little was saved. Mrs. Herring had probably one of the best and largest collections of antique furniture in Central Kentucky all of which was a total loss. Very little of an extensive library and a lot of jewelry and manuscripts were consumed. No insurance.

The structure was a large two-story building and the interior wood work was all cut out by hand with a whip saw, being put together with hand forged nails. It was built prior to 1794 by Rev. Thomas Williams, an early Baptist preacher, who was one of the thirteen original members who organized Drakes Creek Baptist church in 1801. It was fitted with high narrow windows and heavy oaken doors, with several port holes commanding each side from whence the rifle men might repel attacks of the Indians. This was one of the four "Stone Forts" built in Drakes Creek valley at that remote period. Three of the number have burned, two of which were rebuilt, one again burning a few years afterward.

October Don't's

DON'T put off doing your fall cement work until freezing weather. The work will not be satisfactory and may be a complete failure.

DON'T put off doing your plaster work any later as cement and plaster are similar. DON'T put off fall building until days get short and cold, making labor difficult.

DON'T delay sowing wheat later than October 15th, unless the ground is very dry. When you sow use chemical fertilizer to push growth and cover ground to protect young and tender plant roots.

DON'T fail to sow plenty of grass seed with wheat that a stand may be assured. You must inquire into the value of Orchard grass—it is wonderful for grazing and sale of seed.

DON'T delay repairing grates or putting in new ones until cold weather is here.

DON'T fail to examine your chimneys and flues and give them needed attention as your house may thus be saved from fire.

DON'T delay using tankage and shorts in feeding your fattening hogs. It pays big.

DON'T allow that leaky roof to stand longer.

We have the cure for all these ills. Call and see us.

DO YOUR BUYING IN LANCASTER

TRADE IN THIS CITY--SPEND YOUR MONEY AT HOME-- PATRONIZE HOME ENTERPRISES.

THE MONEY YOU SPEND WITH MAIL ORDER HOUSES IN LARGE CITIES IS AN INJUSTICE TO THE MERCHANTS, BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN OF OUR BUSTLING TOWN.

While That Spent With Home Enterprises Remains Here And Benefits Everyone. The Mail Order And Out Of Town Houses Never Contribute Towards Public Improvements of Lancaster in Any Manner. Keep Your Money In The Town In Which You
Made It.

In this issue of THE CENTRAL RECORD we present to our readers a number of the reliable firms of Lancaster that are deserving of your patronage, together with several industries that have been, and still are, instrumental in making the town one of the most important in the state, and which are largely responsible for the development and growth of the city in the last few years. Lancaster's resources and advantages are shown in a manner that should attract the attention of every reader of this paper. The representations of the retail establishments are not complete, of course, but they give the citizens of Lancaster and Garrard county an idea of the character of stores operated and maintained in their midst. There is no excuse for any one living in the town or community to go, or send, outside the confines of Lancaster to make their purchases of whatever nature. The goods carried by their home merchants are adequate to care for their needs in all lines, and at prices that are as reasonable as can be obtained of any dealer in the country. Every dollar you spend with your home merchant remains in Lancaster and community directly benefits every citizen and means greater prosperity and more progress. Keep your money in the town in which you made it. The money you spend with mail order houses is gone forever. They never contribute toward building Lancaster's churches, schools, business houses, streets and public improvements of any kind. It should behoove every citizen of the town to patronize home enterprises first, last and always. They are the mainstay of your town and are deserving of your support. Lancaster merchants are aggressive, courteous, obliging and reliable. They carry the best stocks of goods in their respective lines to be had, and can fill all requirements, or demands, made upon them. They are entitled to your patronage, and you should give it to them.

You are urged to read every representation appearing in this issue of THE CENTRAL RECORD. You will find them beneficial and helpful in shopping, and otherwise determining your future course. These enterprises are commended to your earnest consideration.

The various articles were prepared by our special writer, and not by any individual whose name appears among the series, and are published in a complimentary spirit.

THE KENGARLAN HOTEL.

The Kengarlan Hotel is one of the oldest and best known hostels in this section of the state. There are few inhabitants of this portion of Kentucky, as well as the traveling man—who cannot recall the time they stopped at the Kengarlan. It is located in the center of the town, on the east end of the square, and has a commanding view of the beautiful and fertile fields of Garrard county which can be seen in all directions. Like other public buildings in towns this hotel has been destroyed by fires, rebuilt and remodeled. The Kengarlan, as it stands today, is one of the most modern establishments in the country, having upwards of 20 cheerful and neatly furnished rooms for the accommodation of guests, with hot and cold running water in every room, electric lighted, steam heated, bath rooms, sample rooms, and in fact, everything needed for the convenience of its guests, and as good service as you will get in even the higher priced hotels of the cities. Mr. R. Zimmer, the genial and popular proprietor, is always ready to do all in his power to make the wayfarer feel at home and be satisfied. His table is supplied with the best market affords, served in a neat and spacious dining-room in a home-like and tasteful manner that appeals to the most fastidious. In connection with the hotel is operated a restaurant, where short orders can be had at all hours of the day and until a late hour at night. He also conducts a grocery and fruit store in the same building which is patronized by the exclusive people of the town and community who want the best and freshest goods. Mr. Zimmer has proven to the public that he understands the art of conducting a first-class hotel and his patrons are always well pleased with the accommodation and service they get when guests at the Kengarlan, which name is a contraction of the state, county and town.

LYONS' "BUSY CASH STORE"

The large number of citizens who take their friends to Mr. G. M. Lyons' "Busy Cash Store" to buy their clothing, dry goods, shoes, millinery, notions, etc. is a significant endorsement that those who trade with his enterprising and aggressive merchant get the best grade of goods and at the lowest possible cost. Mr. Lyons is winning new customers every day by pleasing the old ones. Every garment he sells is carefully fashioned and made of the best material. The many little quality features that distinguish the really well made clothes from the ordinary kind will be found throughout his establishment. His stock is large, but prices small, for he sells for cash and the buyer gets the benefit of the big saving to him of bad accounts, carrying customers indefinitely and other losses incident to doing a credit business. In addition to clothing for men, women and boys, Mr. Lyons also carries a big stock of shoes for both sexes, young and old, while his millinery department is teeming with the newest and latest creations in trimmed and untrimmed hats, ribbons, embroideries, laces, etc. If it is new and desirable you will be sure of finding it at "The Busy Cash Store". Mr. Lyons is also agent here for the "Dixie Boy" line of suits, the best values you can get for your money. With every suit purchased the boy gets absolutely free the best dollar watch made, guaranteed for one year. You are requested to call and see this new line of clothing. The courteous and straightforward dealings on the part of Mr. Lyons and his assistants have established a prestige for his store that is envied by many in this section. He is cordially commended to the readers of this paper, who will find him a reliable and accommodating merchant whose stock of goods is surpassed by none in central Kentucky.

JOSEPH MERCANTILE CO.

Lancaster's leading ladies' ready-to-wear, dry goods, shoe and notion store of the Joseph Mercantile Co., of which Mrs. E. Joseph and Mr. A. D. Joseph are proprietors is a credit to the town as well as to the aggressive and enterprising business methods of the proprietors. It is stocked with one of the handsomest and most desirable lines of merchandise to be found in cities of many times the population of Lancaster. The ladies of the town and community should not feel that it is necessary to go out of Lancaster to make their purchases when they have an establishment here at home that is prepared to care for their every need in the wearing apparel and furnishing lines. Here can be found one of the most varied and up-to-date stock of goods in this section. The styles, designs and patterns are the newest conceptions from the marts of fashion and are offered the trade at as low a price as can be obtained of any concern in the metropolitan cities. This is one of the most courteous and accommodating firms in town and the lines of goods show the care and forethought of merchants of experience in their selection.

The firm is displaying the latest creations in ladies' coats, suits, house and street dresses for fall and winter wear, procured from the leading manufacturers in their respective lines, who have designed each and every garment to please anyone, it matters not her taste. They have been pronounced the richest and most stylish collection ever before offered by a house in this section. The firm is agent here for the celebrated Gossard corset, which is well known to practically every lady in the land. There is no reason why anyone in the community should patronize a mail order house, or firm in a larger city, when they can get the most approved styles from their home merchants. It is the endeavor of the proprietors to place their business on the one-price basis, which has become such an attractive feature in many of the large cities, thus assuring each customer the same goods at the one price. An establishment of this character is deserving of your patronage, and it should be your pleasure to spend your money with a concern whose reputation is of the highest order and quality of goods the best in the market.

J. A. BEAZLEY.

In every profession science has made wonderful progress within the last decade. Today the possibilities of mankind are hard to reckon on limit. Many things are being accomplished daily that would have been considered impossibilities in the time of our forefathers. No advancement of professional men has been of greater worth to civilization than that of the undertaker and embalmer. The licensed graduate embalmer is as necessary, and as much sought, in the present century, as is the physician, lawyer or dentist. His skill and knowledge are necessary factors in the human family of today, for no one cares, or wishes, to employ the services of the unskilled funeral director and embalmer.

Lancaster has a citizen that is thoroughly proficient in his chosen profession. Reference is made to Mr. J. A. Beazley, the town's capable and efficient undertaker and embalmer. He is also representative of several old line insurance companies writing life, accident, sickness and hail insurance. There is not a more reliable or skilled embalmer to be found in this section of the country than Mr. Beazley. He is a graduate of the Clark College of Embalming and is therefore proficient in his profession. Mr. Beazley operates his own funeral equippage which is considered to be one of the handsomest in central Kentucky. The Central Record can attest as to his worth as a citizen and business man, and his reliability is never questioned by those who know him.

His office is over the National Bank, office phone 27, and residence 3.

DAVIDSON & TOMLINSON.

The nearest, best managed and most inviting grocery store in Lancaster, no doubt, is that of Davidson & Tomlinson, dealers in all kinds of fancy and staple groceries, vegetables, fruits, etc., together with a select line of fresh meats. Messrs L. G. Davidson and H. D. Tomlinson began business in this town several years ago, and their steadily increasing business bespeaks for itself the superior grade of goods handled by this reliable and accommodating firm, thus verifying the old adage, "merit will win." The establishment of these gentlemen is so attractively arranged that it has been the recipient of many compliments from those who trade here in preference to other alike enterprises, for they know that the quality of goods bought of Davidson & Tomlinson are always fresh and desirable. You will never find any old goods on their shelves while the adulterated articles are not to be found in their store. They endeavor at all times to give their patrons the right goods at the right prices, and this has had the effect of giving the proprietors a prestige among the people of Lancaster and surrounding sections that few dealers can claim. Their business is constantly growing, as their customers are always satisfied and take a delight in telling their neighbors about the superior goods, fair treatment and accommodation extended them by this popular and reliable firm. They are gentlemen of pleasing manners and are reckoned among the town's most aggressive citizens. There is nothing in the grocery line, cereals, table relishes, canned goods, produce, etc., that you will be unable to secure from this establishment.

HASELDEN BROTHERS.

Prominent among the firms of Lancaster that are responsible for the development and growth of the town and community, and which is deserving of the patronage of the citizens of Lancaster and Garrard, is the firm of Haselden Bros., composed of Messrs. J. R. & S. G. Haselden, dealers in all kinds of hardware, farming implements, machinery, vehicles, roofing, fencing, sheet metal work, etc., besides being tin and plumbing contractors and agents for the well known Studebaker wagon, and the universal car—the Ford—universally used, universally popular. There are more Ford cars in use than all others combined. There is reason, and those contemplating the purchase of a car should first have the good points of the Ford explained to them. A big line of auto, accessories is also carried in stock at all times. The firm is also agent for the Malleable Range, so much coveted by all housewives who appreciate the best in range manufacture. A specialty of this firm is the superior grade hand-made buggy and wagon harness.

It has been the aim and ambition of these gentlemen to carry such a complete and varied stock that would enable every one in the community and surrounding towns and villages to purchase their needs in this line of merchandise rather than be forced to send to other and larger cities. The firm was established over 20 years ago, and through courteous treatment to the trade and carrying such a well-selected stock at all times as invites the patronage of those in need of hardware and kindred lines, the proprietors have built up a business that is not only a credit to their business training and experience, but is an asset to the town and community. If you would trade with men in whom you have the utmost confidence; if you are looking for full value for every dollar you spend; if you would help yourself by "trading at home" and with a firm you know to be reliable, then there is little excuse why Haselden Bros. should not receive your patronage. They will be pleased to serve you and will appreciate your trade.

REX GARAGE.

The auto has not been built that does not require the attention of competent machinists at times, and the opening of repair shops has not kept pace with the increased sales of machines, and the demand for stations in charge of expert attendants. There are plenty of repair shops—so called—and garages, but few have the equipment for making quick repairs for any and all makes of machines, and workmen of ability to handle all kinds of jobs. One of the best, if not the best, auto station in this section; and one this paper can recommend, is the Rex Garage, of which Mr. Hammack is proprietor. This is unquestionably one of the best appointed and equipped garages and repair stations to be found anywhere. It is a credit to Lancaster's enterprises, besides being a great convenience to the motorists. In addition to the repair and vulcanizing department Mr. Hammack also operates a general garage and all cars placed with him on storage receive the best care possible. Mr. Hammack has the agency for Lancaster and Garrard county for the sale of the well known and popular cars, the Chevrolet and Chalmers. There are none better, and few their equal. The proprietor is a gentleman of pleasing manners, affable and courteous at all times and ever-ready to extend every favor possible to his many patrons. When you need the services of an expert auto repairer, or have occasion to store your car, you could not do better than to patronize the Rex Garage. You will find the charges most reasonable and service the best.

HUDSON, HUGHES AND FARNAU.

Among the prominent and esteemed business men of the town, and gentlemen who have been identified with the industrial life of Lancaster and Garrard county for the past 6 years, is the firm of Hudson, Hughes & Farnau, dealers in and buyers of hemp, wheat, corn, mill feed, coal, flour, hay and field seeds of all kinds. There are few citizens of the county who do not know the members of this firm, as their business dealings extend from one end of Garrard county to the other, and even into the adjacent counties. Their patrons are numbered among the most particular people of the community for they have long since found that they could get the very best goods when making their purchases of this reliable firm, as well as receiving the highest market prices when offering their produce for sale. The line handled by this company embrace everything in the field seed line, barley, rye, wheat, timothy, grass, etc., all of which are now ready for delivery. In addition to the foregoing, the firm is distributor for several popular grades of coal, which have made a remarkable record for household use. They are always in the market for the purchase of hemp, hay, grain, straw, etc. Their stock also embraces cement, sand, wood fibre plaster, bale tie, salt, bran and flour in barrels and sacks. They are gentlemen in whom all confidence can be placed, of pleasing personality, courteous and accommodating at all times. Those who are not already patrons of Hudson, Hughes & Farnau will find it to their interest to call and get their quotations before buying elsewhere.

THE GARRARD MILLING CO.

There is no enterprise in Lancaster that is more generally appreciated than is the Garrard Milling Co., of which Messrs Henry Moore and R. P. Gregory are managers. The excellence of the products of this modern plant has gained for the company widespread favor among those who appreciate the highest quality of flour, meal and feed stuffs. The establishment is one of the most modern in operation in this section of the state, the most improved machinery being used in the manufacture of the extra high-grades that are daily marketed. It can be truthfully said that the flours of this company are pure, wholesome and delicious, possessing that sweet, nutty flavor seldom found in even the highest-priced and nationally advertised brands. The products are made from the best wheat it is possible to obtain in a thoroughly equipped plant. The company has spared neither time, means nor skill to equip the establishment with the kind of machinery that produces the best results; hence, the quality of goods rank second to none manufactured in Kentucky. They are, in fact, testimonials of the skill employed in their manufacture. Messrs Moore and Gregory are exceedingly proud of the prestige their brands have gained, and well they may be, for they meet the demands of the consumer in such a satisfying manner that whenever once used become staple articles of food in the home afterwards. The leading brand, "Glen Lily", is claimed to have no superior anywhere. The corn mill is one of the cleanest and most up-to-date in the country.

The Central Record takes pleasure in adding its testimonial of the goods offered the public through this popular home concern. They are all that could be demanded of the finest products in the market. Housewives should insist on Lancaster-made flour and meal thereby giving their custom to a home industry, which spends its money for Garrard county wheat. The firm is always in the market for wheat, paying the highest market prices. In addition to operating a flour and meal mill, the company also handles coal as well as cement, crushed stone, sand, etc.

DRS. DENNY & WHEELER.

No profession has made greater strides, nor become more generally appreciated for its worth in a community than that of dentistry. Many troubles and ailments of the human family are now traced to defective or abnormal teeth. This is where dentistry is playing such an important part. Dentistry and surgery go hand in hand and are so closely allied that one is largely dependent upon the other. Every town and community cannot boast of having efficient, aggressive and skilled dentists, but Lancaster can, for in the persons of Drs. Denny & Wheeler, whose offices are in the Stormes building, over Holtzclaus Furniture Store, the town and county are exceedingly fortunate, for they are gentlemen who have given their chosen profession the closest study and application. They are Garrard county men and have practiced their profession in Lancaster for the past twenty years, or more. They are thoroughly equipped to do all work in dentistry in the most approved and satisfactory manner. Their offices are fitted up with all the modern appliances known to the profession, including those operated by electricity, and their lucrative practice is indicative of the high esteem and regard in which they are held by the citizens of Lancaster and surrounding section, both as practitioners of their profession and as gentlemen.

LOGAN & ANDERSON BROS.

How many readers of The Central Record know that the average suit of clothes has one hundred and fifty-seven different parts, and the average pair of trousers over sixty processes? The average fabric, even when it is all wool, through and through, can be made in many different grades. Few wearers of clothes realize this fact; they never question the merit of a garment if it is attractive to the eye. There is no line of merchandise that depends more largely on the representation of the merchant than that of clothing. You should, therefore, deal with a firm in whom you have confidence, and whose representations you can depend on. In the firm of Logan & Anderson Bros., Lancaster and Garrard county citizens have merchants in whom you can depend implicitly. When you buy clothing, furnishings and shoes from these gentlemen you do so with the consciousness that you are getting the best values for your money. The stock of goods carried by this firm is surpassed by none in the country. They are agents for the famous Adler's Culligan line of clothing for men, and the Frat line for young men; the Florsheim and Weber and Knox lines of shoes as well as Endicott Johnson, and Nunn and Bush work shoes.

This is one of the most up-to-date establishments in this section and deserves the patronage of the citizens of their town and community. The business has been established on the lines of honorable dealings and carrying just the class of goods that meets the demands of the most exacting, or discriminating dresser. When you need clothing, shoes and furnishings, you could not do better than to first inspect the stock and get the prices of this established and reliable firm. The proprietors are recommended to the readers of this paper as being reliable, courteous and accommodating.

GARRARD BANK & TRUST CO

The Garrard Bank & Trust Company is recognized not only by the citizens of Lancaster, but throughout this and the adjacent counties as being one of the most substantial institutions of the kind in the country. Since its establishment in 1906 it has attained a phenomenal growth, and today takes its stand in the front rank of banking houses in central Kentucky. It has proven to its hundreds of patrons that it is as strong and solid as it is possible for an institution of this character to be. The utmost confidence is placed in the officials who have the success of the bank in their hands, for they are conservative business men who guard with the greatest care the deposits and savings of their large list of clients, while at the same time they are never remiss, or unwilling, to extend to those who have occasion to transact business with a banking institution all the courtesies and favors possible. For this reason, among others, it is today one of the most popular and trusted banking houses in this section of the state.

There is nothing lacking in its equipment to facilitate modern banking. Fire and burglar-proof safes of the most improved type are used. This is an institution that the citizens of Lancaster and Garrard county not only appreciate but feel exceedingly proud of. And well they may, for the town has no enterprise that outclasses it. It is controlled and operated by Garrard county men and is as safe as it is possible for men of brains and experience to make it. An attractive feature of this bank is the Trust department which makes a specialty of loans on improved farms, giving the most liberal terms. It also acts in the management of estates, as trustee, guardian, etc., in fact, in any fiduciary capacity. The officers are, R. E. McRoberts, President, Alex Walker, Vice President, Other directors are, W. B. Cook, V. A. Lear, W. H. Brown, F. B. Marksbury, J. E. Robinson, T. J. Price, J. H. Dalton and J. W. Elmore, cashier. There are few men in the county who have a larger circle of friends, or who enjoy the respect and esteem of the business men of the town and community more than do the gentlemen at the head of this flourishing bank.

MISS MINNIE BROWN

Conspicuous among the retail establishments of Lancaster, and one that is well and favorably known to the trade of the town as well as throughout this and the adjacent counties, is the millinery store of Miss Minnie Brown, who carries a stock second to none to be found in the large cities. It includes everything in the line of ladies' hats, trimmed and untrimmed, as well as millinery of various kinds, embroideries, ribbons, etc. Her stock of fall hats is one of the most stylish and attractive ever before offered the trade of Lancaster. The newest and latest creations are now on display. They are designed to please everyone, it matters not the taste of the individual, or her discriminating ideas. You will not find an out-of-date style among the large and varied assortment, but all new and the most approved patterns. Her store is headquarters for the particular shoppers of the town and community, for they know the goods carried by Miss Brown are all desirable and the latest in feminine fashions. It will be to the interest of the Central Record readers who are contemplating the purchase of a new and stylish hat for fall and early winter wear, to first inspect the stock carried by this reliable merchant milliner. You will always get the best quality of goods at this, Lancaster's popular ladies' store, while the prices are exceedingly reasonable.

J. E. SEALE.

Since the time of Esau—many hundreds of years back—man has grown whiskers on his face. Why, is still a question for a debate; never-the-less it is true, and can be easily proven by heing yourself to the wilds of the forest, or be separated from civilization for the season. Fashion with man is almost as pronounced as it is with woman. We are living in the age of "clean shaven faces." It is a fact, some may claim; it is an improvement others will say, but be the result what it may, barber shops are as necessary in this enlightened day as is the dealer in merchandise. The town that does not maintain an attractive and up-to-date barber shop is a back number. Lancaster can boast of having one of the most modern and up-to-date establishments of this kind in the country. The Central Record refers to the sanitary shop owned and managed by Mr. J. E. Seale. Mr. Seale is also one of the most skilled barbers in the state. His manipulation of the razor over your face is done so deftly and with such ease that it is a source of pleasure rather than a bore, to be shaven by him. His assistants are also experts in their line. Since opening his place of business to the public, Mr. Seale has had a lucrative patronage, for the citizens of the town and county appreciate such as elegant shop in their midst, and they are showing it by giving Mr. Seale their trade. Everything about the place is as neat and attractive as it is possible to make it, and his establishment will compare favorably with the best ones in the country. If you want the best service at all times Mr. Seale's barber shop is recommended to you. Hot and cold baths supplied at all hours of the day and until closing time.

THE NATIONAL BANK.

The prosperity of a town or community is invariably reckoned by its banks, for there is no better index to the stability of a community than to know that a flourishing bank is one of its foremost institutions. Lancaster is no exception to the many live, progressive towns of the state, for her citizens can point with pride to The National Bank of Lancaster, established in 1865, with a capital of $50,000.00, surplus and undivided profits of $43,853.00, while its resources are in excess of the large sum of $311,000.00. It is operated under the supervision of the U. S. government and is unquestionably one of the strongest banking houses in Kentucky and warrants the careful consideration of all business men or others seeking a banking house with all modern facilities. Since its organization it has steadily grown until today it stands second to none in reliability and trustworthiness.

It is one of the few institutions of the kind in which you can feel perfectly safe that your funds will be cared for by conscientious and responsible men. From its inception this bank has been a success, due to the sagacious manner in which the officers handled the deposits and investments of their many clients. Lancaster needed just such a bank and the men at its head realized this fact when they organized for its establishment. The officers and directors are Garrard county men and are known throughout this entire section for their strict integrity, high sense of honor and possessing marked business ability. They are identified with the town's interests in every way, having her future development and growth at heart, being ready at all times to do their part toward making Lancaster and Garrard county better and more widely known for their unexcelled resources and opportunities. Citizens of the town and county may well feel exceedingly proud of this institution for it is all anyone could expect or demand of a modern banking house. Its officers are courteous, obliging and ever ready to extend every favor possible to their many patrons. It is a source of pleasure and satisfaction to transact business with The National Bank of Lancaster, Mr. A. R. Denny, is president, Mr. J. E. Stormes, vice president and Mr. S. C. Denny, cashier.

THE ARCADE GARAGE.

It is a very important matter with auto-owners to place their car in good hands—with men you know to be responsible and capable—for there are numerous garages and repair shops in the country, but not every one equipped to give you the service you have a right to expect in return for your money. The Arcade Garage, located on Danville street, of which Kinnaird Bros. are proprietors, is one of the few in which you can feel perfectly safe that your car will receive the care and attention that you would give it yourself. This is a modern establishment in every sense of the word, and one that has met with favor by all who patronize it.

In addition to operating a garage and service station the firm also conducts a repair department, which is in charge of the most expert and competent attendants, and it matters not what class of work your car may need you can rest satisfied that it will be properly done if sent to this reliable firm. Their charges are also exceedingly reasonable. They will make you a special price on storage with full service, or part service; or, they will give you service without storage. You cannot find a more reliable place in the town at which to store your car or have your repair work done than this one. The Messrs Kinnaird are agents here for that favorite of all cars—the Hupmobile—cheap in price but high in quality. The Arcade Garage is recommended to Central Record readers. You will find the proprietors courteous, obliging and thoroughly dependable in all their transactions.

LANCASTER OPERA HOUSE.

Lancaster enjoys the distinction of possessing one of the most modern and up-to-date places of amusement in this section of the state. Reference is made to the Lancaster Opera House, under the proprietorship and management of Mr. W. J. Romans. It can be stated without fear of contradiction that there are few amusement houses in the country superior to this one, in equipment and appointment as well as the character of plays and motion pictures that are staged nightly. Mr. Romans sees to it that only the highest-class productions are shown on his canvas; in fact, just such pictures as the entire family can witness without the least embarrassment. He will not contract to show any picture that has the slightest tinge of questionable merit to it. They are all high-class in every particular. The seating capacity is sufficient to guarantee accommodation to the large number who appreciate good pictures and a well kept and orderly house. The pictures are products of the best companies. The wiring of the house is perfect in every respect, with wide aisles and sufficient exits in case of fire. At intervals Mr. Romans stages a good troupe of actors and actresses for vaudeville entertainment, which are always well attended. The citizens of the town and community appreciate this handsome and well managed play house, and they are not slow to show their appreciation to Mr. Romans by attending his performances, whether they be acted in real life or on canvas.

CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK.

There is no institution or business enterprise that is considered as being so indispensable to the citizens of a town or community as a well conducted and accommodating banking house. Lancaster is not behind the towns of the state in possessing a bank that is thoroughly capable of taking care of her people at all times. This banking corporation is the Citizens National Bank, with a capital, surplus and undivided profits of $107,000; deposits of $150,000 while its resources are over $320,000, thus assuring its patrons the best and safest protection. It is the Honor Roll bank so designated on account of its earned Surplus being equal to or greater than the capital stock established in 1883 it has grown with the town and community until today it is rated second to none in this section of Kentucky. The personnel of its officers is the very best, for by their business training and fair dealings they have won the confidence of those seeking a modern and dependable banking house. This bank has never failed to pay its annual dividends. You can depend on receiving the most courteous treatment at the hands of the Citizens National Bank. It is operated under the direction of and controlled by the U. S. government, which is additional assurance to the depositors that their funds will be protected. It is thoroughly reliable and no safer institution can be found in the entire country in which to deposit your funds, than this one. The most modern methods are employed, fire and burglar proof safes being used. The officers are men of experience and integrity, and are well and favorably known to the citizens of the town, Garrard and adjacent counties. This bank solicits your business promising you at all times every accommodation possible and a service unexcelled in modern banking. Mr. B. F. Hudson, is president, Mr. J. J. Walker, vice president, and Mr. W. F. Champ, cashier. An institution of this character is an asset to the business and financial life of any town or community, and deserves the patronage of the citizens of Lancaster and Garrard county.

The City of Lancaster is now without a water supply. It will take an unusual rain for this season of the year to give any immediate relief. But the most serious side of the situation is the future. The leaks in the lake are becoming larger and the consumption of the water by the public greater. Any dry season the city will be out of water for months. The present council is in no way responsible for any mistakes in the location or construction of the present plant. As much as it may be regretted, that we have so serious a matter before the city, complaining of past mistakes will not accomplish anything. The citizens of the city must get together and endeavor to handle the situation if possible.

What to do and how to do it, is one of the largest business matters the city has ever had to face. The people should all cooperate in this undertaking and let there be no mistake in any step in the future. The health of the community depends upon an adequate supply of pure water for private consumption and the safety of the property depends upon sufficient water for fire protection.

Sounds Uncomfortable.
The emperor of Japan sleeps on a rug with bamboo sticks for a pillow.

New Peril.
Hickory dickory dock, the mouse ran up the clock. "Heavens!" cried the pretty girl, "suppose the brute runs up a wrist watch!"—Browning's Magazine.

Corroboration.
A policeman, whose evidence was taken at his bedside in the hospital, deposed: "The prisoner sat upon me, calling me an ass, a precious dolt, a scoundrel, a rascal, an idiot." And, this being the conclusion of his depositions, his signature was preceded by the formal ending, "All of which I swear is true."

Food Required by the Aged.
A great English physician, Dr. George Cheyne, states that after fifty years of age the amount of food should be decreased gradually. At eighty, if a man becomes so old, he should eat about as much as a child of five. A man should take especial care of himself between the ages of thirty-two and thirty-five, by studying his constitution and regulating food, exercise and pleasure.

Wanted His Penny Back.
A Pittsfield (Mass.) mother told her little son to drop his penny in the plate when the man came round in the church. He did as he was told. The man didn't come back and the youngster began to ask the reason why. He became quite noisy in his demand to know when that man was going to bring back his penny. Mother quieted him as best she could and after church explained.

DO YOUR BUYING IN LANCASTER

H. D. LEE & SON.

Lancaster is especially fortunate in having high-class and desirable retail stores, especially among the grocery establishments, but none carry a superior line of goods to that to be found at H. D. Lee & Son. This firm has been identified with the commercial interests of the town, and from the start gained a reputation for handling only the best and freshest goods. The premises are neatly arranged and the business well managed. Here you will find everything pertaining to fancy and staple groceries including teas, coffees, cereals, canned goods, flour, lard, fruits, vegetables, etc. A full assortment of all the popular and desirable brands of flour will be found in the varied stock, while the prices and quality always compare with those of other dealers in the community. Patrons of this store realize that they get the best goods and a service that you that you will make no mistake if you will send, or phone your orders to this firm for anything and everything in the grocery line. Deliveries are made promptly. They are gentlemen of high standing in the town and deserve praise for the manner in which they have built up their business, and not a few citizens are showing their appreciation of their fair dealings and courteous treatment by giving them their trade. Their Phone is 213.

E. B. RAY

The class, or standing, of a community is invariably judged by its officials. There can be no better index to its high standard than this one fact. Certainly if the casual observer were to form an estimation of Garrard county on this basis, it could be none other than the highest. And among those who are prominent and efficient workers, none stand out more prominently than does the present deputy assessor, Mr. E. B. Ray, who has announced his candidacy for nomination of Assessor of Garrard at the next Democratic primary. Mr. Ray is a young man full of the vim and energy that is so needful in this day and time to cope with the situation that daily presents itself. Born and reared in this county he is a man particularly qualified for the position to which he aspires. It will not be a new and untried office with him, for he is familiar with every detail; it would not be speculative on the part of the voters as to whether he could fill the office satisfactorily and efficiently, for he has served the people faithfully and without an objection for the past two years. He knows the valuation of Garrard Co. lands; he is familiar with its topography, its resources and advantages; he knows the taxpayers, and they know him to be a gentleman of the highest honor and strictest integrity combined with sound judgment and fair and impartial decisions. Mr. Ray's long line of ancestors were of the blue-stocking democrats, and like his forefathers he too, is an ardent supporter of the administration. That his election will be certain is not feared by his many friends who want him elected by the biggest majority ever before polled by a candidate. And there is little doubt but that he will be the next Assessor of Garrard.

J. F. HOLTZCLAW & SON.

The comfortable home is one essential to life's happiness. Make your dwelling place as inviting as it is possible for you to do. In Lancaster, there is a store from which you can buy your house-furnishings of the highest class at the most reasonable cost. It would, indeed, be hard to surpass the quality, design, and finish which gives the stock carried by J. F. Holtzclaw and Son a reputation that is approached by few in the business. Everything needed to beautify the home can be bought here. Bedroom, dining-room and parlor suits, chairs, davenettes, library and sewing tables, rugs, matings, linoleums and other floor coverings, stoves, ranges, oil heaters and cookers, and cooking utensils. This firm has been identified with the business interest of Lancaster for a number of years, hence, there is little wonder that those who once trade with them become regular patrons. It is an easy matter to be suited at this establishment, for the stock includes everything the bride of today, yesterday or tomorrow, could need or wish. This firm is dependable in all their transactions, misrepresentations never being made to any customer. It is a pleasure to trade with merchants of this character. They will take old goods in exchange if you wish to trade. This firm is agent for the well known Haddon pianos, Mandel Victrolas, records, and other musical instruments and music. Also, Simmons Beds are sold by the above named firm. Every time you hear the story of Simmons Steel Beds you hear a story that is of genuine interest, because people want to see these beds about which they have read in the Ladies Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post and Farm Journal. They are receiving new goods every week, and expect to make their stock bigger and better than ever before. When you are in need of anything in the house-furnishing line, this store is recommended to you. You will never have occasion to regret having made the purchase. You will always find them "On The Square".

BLUE GRASS DAIRY & ICE CO

Of the many enterprises in Lancaster that stand out conspicuous for their worth as industries, none is surpassed, possibly, by the Blue Grass Dairy and Ice Company, manufacturers of ice and ice cream, of which Messrs H. V. and W. R. Bastin are owners. These gentlemen have been identified with the industrial progress of the town and community in such a manner that their efforts are greatly appreciated by the citizens, for the firm not only supplies the home trade with the best and purest product in ice manufacture but the people throughout this section are taken care of during the heated term when ice is so much needed. There is not a similar plant in this section that is better equipped for caring for the needs of the consumer than in this one. The machinery is all new and of the improved type. The industry was established here about four years ago, and on account of the superior grade of ice marketed it is never idle but run to its full capacity to care for the large business already established. The ice cream plant which is operated in connection, furnishes the soda fountain and family trade in this and the adjoining counties with ice cream, only the richest and best cream being used in its manufacture. It has that home flavor and taste that you do not get with the products of the large concerns. Messrs Bastin have been the recipient of many compliments on their delicious, pure and favored creams. To be abreast of the times and equipped for caring for the needs of their many patrons in other lines, they also operate a general store, which is conducted on the cash basis. The stock is one of the most complete and well-assorted to be found in this section, while the goods are fresh and desirable. Everything in groceries, produce, as well as notions, dry goods, clothing, hardware, etc., is carried.

The franchise for supplying the town with electric lights and power was recently purchased by these gentlemen, and they are now arranging all the preliminary plans for the erection of an immense electric plant, one capable of supplying all the power necessary for lighting, driving and heating purposes. A twenty-four hour service will be operated as soon as they have completed the plant and installed the machinery. This will be a boon to the citizens of the town, and something that has been badly needed for years past. Their franchise will become effective July 1, 1917.

BASTIN TELEPHONE CO.

There are many cities with a much larger population than Lancaster that can boast of as good a telephone service as the Bastin Telephone Company is giving its patrons. This is an independent concern, being operated and conducted free of the trust and monopoly companies. Under the management of Mr. J. R. Corn, who assumed control of the company's business about two years ago, the service has been improved fully 100 per cent; in fact, there is no comparison of the service of today with that received by the patrons before the new cable distribution was installed, which is taking the place of the old iron wire one wire system in the town. The company is giving a service that is unequalled, not only in Lancaster but over the entire county. The telephone is one of the essentials of this day and time, for no home is really complete without it. It pays for itself, in many instances, in a single day in the transaction of business; besides, when you need a physician or medicine it is often the saving of a life. In fact, indispensable, and everyone should have a phone in their home. The rates are now so reasonable that it is no longer looked upon as a luxury intended for people of means, but practically everyone can afford a phone now. Lancaster is recognized as being one of the best cable towns in the state. The operators in charge of the local board are polite and attentive, giving quick and efficient connections, throughout the day and night.

The citizens of the town and county should lend their support to this enterprise, for it is deserving of your patronage. The rates for town connections, as well as homes and business houses in the county can be obtained by phoning the management. If you haven't a phone in your home, you will find it the greatest convenience and help you ever bought for the low price charged.

TEATERSVILLE

Mr. Kemp Walker purchased from Mr. Billie Mason a pony, price $50.
Mr. Kemp Walker and daughter Elizabeth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cotton Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kurtz and family were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Stapp and family Sunday.
Roberta, Margaret, Elmer, and Jesse Ray were the pleasant guests of Miss Elizabeth Walker Sunday.
Miss Mary Lee and Mr. Billie Kurtz returned home Sunday after a visit to Mr. Forest Stapp and family in Lancaster.
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Simpson and daughter Jaunita and Mrs. Irvine Hoover and daughter Willie Bell were visitors in Crab Orchard Sunday.

W. J. ROMANS.

Backed with an experience of over twenty years, in which time he has come in contact with every detail connected with his respective line of business, Mr. W. J. Romans is now reckoned among the town's most aggressive and enterprising business men and citizens. He has made his business a study; he has applied his time toward accomplishing the best results for his customers by keeping one of the most varied and dependable stocks of goods to be found in this section of the country. Mr. Romans deals in buggies, harness, implements of all kinds, wire fence, steel and galvanized roofing, paints, oils, lap robes for buggies and autos, etc., as well as having the agency here for the sale of that well known and popular farm wagon, "Old Hickory". Every man in the country has heard of, if not used, this standard wagon, as it has been "time tried and draft tested" for years, and today it is the favorite of thousands who know something of its superior workmanship and the quality of material used in its construction. Mr. Romans carries a large line of heating and cooking stoves which are as good as the best in the market, while his prices are lower than a majority of dealers. He also operates in connection, a carriage shop, which is in charge of expert workmen. A specialty is made of rubber tiring buggies. Every job is guaranteed and work executed in the shortest time possible. Many of his customers come even a long distance in order to patronize him, for they know him to be a gentleman of the fairest and squarest dealing, dependable and thoroughly reliable in all his transactions. He is recommended to Central Record readers. His place of business is on Stanford street, one block from Court House.

"SAFETY FIRST"

Preparedness is the all-absorbing topic of the day, and there was never a question proposed of greater moment to the American people than this one. Preparedness in all things, but not least among the number, preparedness in case of fire or death. The latter is sure to come and the former a possibility at any hour. When you think of insurance of whatever nature—fire and tornado, life and live stock—you should think of Ed C. Gaines, the oldest insurance man in Garrard county, and the only one writing all kinds of insurance exclusively, and not as a sideline. Mr. Gaines has been a resident of Lancaster for the past nineteen years, and has insured more lives, possibly, than all the other insurance companies combined. His list of insurance companies embrace the oldest and best in the country, among the number might be mentioned the Penn. Mutual, with seventy years of successful and faithful business to its credit. Others have a record for prompt settlement that make them the favorite with astute business men who make a thorough investigation before taking an insurance policy. Mr. Gaines' record is one to be envied by many of his competitors, for the citizens of this and the adjoining counties have found that they could depend implicitly upon his representations, and inasmuch as he has been able to affect settlements between his companies and clients without having to resort to legal process, is sufficient proof that the companies he represents are dependable and solvent; in fact, it may be said of them that there are "None Better and Few as Good". Mr. Gaines is one of the most aggressive citizens of Lancaster; he is a man who has made good with his companies as well as his clients. His word and dealings can be depended on and those who are not carrying insurance on their lives, property or stock should obey the precept, "be prepared", by having Mr. Gaines write them insurance. Every man should be insured; it is his duty, and no right-thinking business man will go through this world without providing after death for those who are dependent upon him. Insurance and Gaines are synonymous words—it will be your gain to see Gaines, whose office is corner public square and Lexington street.

Peculiar Boundary Line.

The strangest of European frontier lines is that marking the boundary between Hanover and Holland, where it crosses the Rhine. A row of pontoon boats lies across the river, chained bow and stern. Inasmuch as the dividing line runs through from stem to stern, the eastern halves of the boats are painted in German colors, the western in Dutch. The effect is most striking.

Peculiar Russian Dish.

One of the national dishes of Russia is known as the Pushka. It is a sort of cake that stands one and a half feet high, and is always put on a tall base. It is usually surmounted by a sugar cross, and is placed in the center of the table when the Russians hold their great feast of Easter when the fast is broken. It takes about 60 eggs to make the Pushka, but none but natives can succeed in producing the rare taste.

Opal Feels Climatic Changes.

The opal is a stone "with a temper," as does the ruby, the emerald and the sapphire, but the opal is of such delicate organization that, when exposed to severe cold, it loses color, and under the influence of excessive moisture becomes dull. It is a curious fact, however, that the temperature of one's hand will cause it to resume its wonted fire and brilliancy, as will also be the case when it is exposed to the direct rays of the sun.

WAS A COMPLETE NERVOUS WRECH; MRS. J. E. KUHN, OF LONE RIDGE, KY., NOW HAPPY.

"I had a nervous breakdown. I had sick headaches and indigestion until I took that great nerve tonic called Tanlac," said Mrs. J. E. Kuhn, Lone Ridge, Kentucky.
"My, but I was extremely nervous. The pains in my head were severe and the gas which formed on my stomach after eating was greatly distressing."
"Tanlac has been the means of strengthening my entire system. It gave me relief from headaches and indigestion. It certainly is a strength builder."
Kentucky has thousands of people who endorse this wonderful remedy because it gave them strength.
Strength is taken from the food that is eaten. A farmer does not plant seed in uncultivated ground. He first plows the earth so the seed may take root. If the ground is poor he improves it with fertilization. His chances for a good crop would be small if he sowed in uncultivated ground.
And so it is with a person. No matter how much food is eaten if it is not properly digested it will not make strength. It is useless to "plant" food in an "unfertile" stomach. The farmer uses fertilizer; you should use a digestive ferment. The point gained by the farmer is the same as it is with the person—it is strength.
Tanlac is being introduced in Lancaster at R. E. McRoberts.
Tanlac may be obtained in the nearby cities. Paint Lick, J. N. Metcalf; Bryantsville, Becker & Ballard; Little Hickman, Collier and Bruner; Berea, S. E. Welch; Stanford, Penny's Drug Store; Junction City, Reynolds and Evans; Richmond, H. L. Perry & Son; Crab Orchard, Lyne Bros.; Burgin, G. T. Schofield; Danville, John S. Wells, Lancaster, R. E. McRoberts, and W. C. West, Silver Creek.

DISEASES OF POULTRY AND THEIR TREATMENT

When a disease has become firmly established in a flock or a single bird is badly affected the free use of the hatchet is usually the most practical method, as it does not pay to spend $2 worth of time in curing a one dollar bird. Slight cases, however, can often be cured with but little trouble.
In nearly every instance it is better to remove the well fowls and put them by themselves, and in the case of infectious disease the premises should be thoroughly disinfected.

Roup or Contagious Catarrh.—The first symptoms of this disease are similar to those of simple catarrh, but as the disease advances there is often swelling of the sides of the head, and the nostrils become closed with thick mucus, causing the birds to breathe through the mouth. If the swellings contain pus they should be opened with a sharp instrument, the contents removed and the wound treated with a mild antiseptic, such as a 2 per cent solution of carbolic acid. The application of kerosene mixed with an equal part of olive oil has given good results in many cases. When a fowl has a bad case of roup it is usually better to kill it unless especially valuable.

Vertigo.—This is also a disease of the brain and may be regarded as a minor kind of apoplexy. The bird shows giddiness, throwing its head upward, backward or to one side. The gait is uncertain and staggering, the sufferer often running around in a circle. Sometimes the bird falls to the ground, fluttering and making convul-sive movements with the legs. The bird can often be revived by holding its head under a stream of cold water.
After this keep the bird in a cool and shady place for some time and regulate the diet.

Catarrh.—Catarrh is a form of cold that is quite common among fowls and may be caused by dampness, drafts or air or exposure to cold. It is indicated by a watery discharge at the nostrils, which later becomes more viscid. Remove the cause, keep the birds fairly warm and give them plenty of easily digested feed. The injection of kerosene into the nostrils is also beneficial.
If catarrh has become confirmed the nostrils and throat should be cleansed with hydrogen peroxide and equal parts of water several times daily and the nostrils greased with vaseline.

Diphtheria.—The marked symptom is the appearance of a diseased growth in the throat and inside the mouth, resembling raised patches of whitish or pale yellowish skin, which may involve the entire throat and mouth, often also appearing like ulcers or sores on the face, comb and about the eyes.
Make a swab of cotton tied on the end of a stick and swab out the mouth with hydrogen peroxide. Remove any of the growths that come away easily.
This disease is very contagious, and any birds suffering from it should be removed from the flock and the premises disinfected.

No Best Breed.
There is no one "best" breed or variety of fowls for any purpose. The usefulness of any flock depends almost as much on the way it is fed, bred and cared for as upon the variety.

The White Cochon is a handsome fowl, large and round, with heavily feathered legs and feet. The hens are good mothers, and the chicks grow rapidly. The pullets reach maturity in from six to eight months, but neither sex attains full size until a year. The cock shown is a White Cochon.

Salt Mines Worth a Visit.
The salt mines of the Maramaros-centuries and many Americans who have toured this part of Hungary have visited the deep galleries whose rock-countless iridescent jewels as they re-

One of the most interesting mines is that of Ronaszek which contains a great subterranean salt lake having a depth of nearly 300 feet.

Caused Embarrassment.
One morning when Esther's mother attempted to wash her daughter's face the child burst into tears. When asked what the trouble was, she replied: "Oh, mamma, I don't want you to wash my face and hands because every morning in kindergarten when my teacher asks if all the children washed their faces and hands I have to say no!"

The Law and the Fact.
"Your case would have been stronger," Mr. McGuire said a lawyer, "if you had acted only on the defensive.
But you struck first. If you had let him strike you first you would have had the law on your side." "Yes," said McGuire, "O'd have had the law on my side, but o'd have had him on me stomach, pounding the life out av me."

PRESERVING FARM TIMBERS.

Treatment Increases Durability - Results of Forest Service Experiments.
(Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are many forms of timber on the farm to which preservative treatment can be advantageously applied.
Among these are posts, telephone poles,
sills, shingles, greenhouse boards, sills,
foundation timbers, board walks,
wooden gates, windmill frames, porch columns, well curbing, etc. It is estimated that a thorough open tank treatment of fence posts will assure even

OPEN TANK TREATMENT.

non-durable woods an average life of twenty years. A thorough treatment with coal tar creosote will make a wooden silo more resistant to decay, less subject to shrinking and swelling and will also make painting unnecessary. The treatment of any nondurable wood, which is used where conditions are favorable to decay, will prolong its life for many years.
For a number of years the forest service has been conducting experiments on the preservative treatment of fence posts, poles and other forms of timber exposed to decay.

The preservatives tested in the experiments included coal tar creosotes, carbolineums, wood tar creosotes, water gas tar creosote, zinc chloride, tar, crude oil, paint, linseed oil, whitewash and cement coatings. Of all the various preservatives tested coal tar creosote has given the best results. Carbolineums have given about the same increase of durability under certain conditions. The service tests upon wood tar creosote and water gas tar creosote have not yet definitely established their value, but these products apparently will give good results. Zinc chloride is satisfactory under certain conditions. The other preservatives have not proved satisfactory for farm use.

There are a number of methods of applying preservatives to wood differing considerably in cost and effectiveness.
The methods best adapted to farm use are the open tank process, the cold bath or soaking treatment, the dipping process and the brush or painting treatment.

The open tank process is the most thorough method practicable on the farm. The posts are heated for one or more hours in the creosote oil at a temperature of from 180 degrees to 220 degrees F. They are then quickly transferred to another tank of oil having a temperature of about 100 degrees F., and are left there for an hour or more. In the hot bath the air and moisture in the wood expand and are partially driven out. When the wood is plunged into the cool oil the air and moisture in it contract and draw the oil into the wood. Instead of a separate tank being used for the cool bath,
the heating of the oil in the hot bath may be stopped and the wood and the oil allowed to cool together. This accomplishes the same purpose as the cool bath, but a longer time is required
because the hot oil cools very slowly.

In the cold bath process the wood is treated by soaking for a long time in a tank of preservative at ordinary air temperature. Since cold oils do not penetrate wood readily, it is probable that but few woods can be successfully impregnated with oils by this method.

The dipping process is considered suitable only for preservatives of an oily nature. The wood is simply heated in oil at from 200 degrees to 220
degrees F. for from five to fifteen minutes or longer. It is cheaper than the open tank treatment, but is much less effective.

Brush treatment or painting is considered suitable for oils only and consists in applying two coats of hot preservative to the wood. It has the advantages of cheapness and simplicity and the disadvantage of adding less durability than the foregoing methods.

The preservative treatment of farm timbers offers opportunity for a profitable industry in rural communities. In many places a small wood preserving plant can be profitably operated in connection with a threshing outfit, a feed mill, or a sawmill, or several individuals can co-operate in establishing and operating a plant for the treatment of timbers used on the farms in the neighborhood.

In over a million homes they know

At some time every woman has had her coffee problem—"bad coffee, medium coffee, coffee that was never twice the same."

A million women have solved the problem by serving Arbuckles'. Get a package of Arbuckles' Coffee today and see why.

Everyone likes it. Morning after morning a million men praise it for its fine, full flavor. Women depend on it. In all these homes, it helps make breakfast a complete success.

Read what a few of these women say:

"I recommend Arbuckles' Coffee to my friends. I buy it all the time because it is better coffee."—Miss B., Mercer, Ky.

"I use Arbuckles' because it is stronger than 35c coffee, and Arbuckles' packages are full 16 oz."—Mrs. V., Coldwater, Kans.

There are hundreds of varieties of coffee grown. To get the result you want, the coffee itself must be right. Arbuckles' Coffee is. It is put up by Arbuckle Bros., the greatest coffee merchants in the world. They can give you greater value in coffee than anyone else. No wonder Arbuckles' is the most popular coffee in America today!

"I have been using Arbuckles' Coffee for years. I think it is the only coffee fit to drink."—Mrs. A. C. W., Lay, Colo.

"We have used Arbuckles' Coffee for ten years, and have not yet found its superior or equal."—Miss H., Bessemer, Ala.

"The finest cup of coffee I ever tasted!" Like these million other women you can have your husband say this. Isn't that satisfaction worth a little time and effort—wouldn't it be worth while even to make a special trip to the grocery store for a package of that fresh, full flavored coffee a million other men are enjoying?

Have it tomorrow. He will praise it morning after morning. When you serve Arbuckles' you will know why it has solved the coffee problem in over a million homes.

Judge John F. Lockett, 58 years old, of Henderson, former Assistant Attorney General, died in Frankfort.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt will speak at Corbin and London Wednesday, October 18, while on his Western campaign trip in behalf of Hughes and Fairbanks.

While Walter Phelps, 10 years old, was asleep in a room in his mother's flat in Lexington, unknown persons entered the room by a rear window and took $400 in money and jewelry.

T. J. Cones, President of the Eastern State Normal School, has appointed F. C. Gentry, of Richmond, as Secretary and Business Manager of the college.

Five deputies of the Kentucky fish and game warden made a rail of 200 miles on both shores of Green River. They captured and destroyed fishing nets and seines valued at $3,000.

Sulphur was partly swept by fire that originated in the cupola of the Baptist Church recently. The loss is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000.

Dr. Ira Landrith, of Nashville, nominee for Vice-President, of the Prohibition party, delivered speeches in Henderson and other western towns and cities from the Prohibition special train which is touring the country.

Definite plans for bringing the $2,500,000 refining plant of the Melick Oil Refining Company to Lexington were learned when it was announced that the Board of Commerce had taken an option on fifty acres of land.

In the new city directory just issued, Lexington is credited with a population of 41,500, a gain of 33.1 per cent in the last decade. The increase over the population of last year is about 1,200.

The State Board of Control of Charitable Institutions elected Dr. S. L. Helm Superintendent of the Institute for the Feeble-Minded at Frankfort, succeeding Dr. H. C. Kehoe, of Flemingsburg.

Triplets—two girls and a boy—were born at Lexington to Mrs. Swift, wife of the Rev. W. A. Swift, Methodist minister and editor of the Central Methodist. The youngsters are well developed and apparently healthy.

Rev. John Robinetta, Louisville, was found guilty of a misdemeanor and sentenced to spend six months in jail. He was accused of having taken a gold watch and fob, a quantity of stamps and some surgical instruments from the office of Dr. M. S. Kirwan.

The Irish and sweet potato crops are reported poor generally throughout the state. The average yield of Irish potatoes is estimated at 73 bushels per acre, and of sweet potatoes 79 bushels. Late garden conditions are poor.

Bond issues for the improvement of public roads have been voted in 28 counties aggregating $5,755,000. In nearly all of these counties the bonds have been sold at a premium and the money on deposit is drawing interest at a rate of from 2 to 4 per cent.

Grover C. Baker, treasurer, member of the firm of Baker & Adair, Covington, was made defendant in a suit filed by Frances Rose, executrix of the estate of George Rose. She declares September 30, 1916, Baker borrowed $2,425 from her husband, who died in San Francisco in 1914.

Gross earnings of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company continue to show increases as indicated by the following statement issued from the Comptroller's office: First week September, $1,204,805, increase, $219,126; from July 1 to September 1, $7,414,378, increase $2,351,982.

Sidney G. Clay, former legislator from Bourbon County, was shot and killed at the home of Lee Beavers. Clay has been in the limelight for several years. His wife, who was Miss May Stoner, secured a divorce a few months ago. Beavers, who lives near Paris, was arrested.

V. O. Gilbert, superintendent of public instruction, has mailed checks amounting to $550,755.49 to school superintendents for the first installment due city and rural school teachers. Of this amount $448,076.26 goes to the rural teachers and $102,679.23 to city teachers.

It is reported in Frankfort that Thomas Welch, of Nicholasville, may be induced to reconsider his refusal of the appointment as secretary of the State Tuberculosis Commission. Dr. Welch felt he could not afford to give up his private efforts have been made to induce him to take up the work by the commission.

Charlie Brown and Elma Cope, who mysteriously disappeared from their home at Benton a week ago, were found dead beside each other in the woods near their home Sunday. Three bullet holes were in the girl's body and one bullet had pierced Brown's heart. It is believed they planned and committed a suicide pact.

The city of Newport will receive $40,000 from the United States Government. Seven years ago the Newport pumping plant on the Ohio River burned. An oil lamp placed on the building as a signal Government light exploded, causing the fire. It was claimed the loss entailed was $40,000 and Newport filed a claim for that amount against the Government.

The Franklin County Development League, of 150 members, was organized at Frankfort, to develop agriculture.

In order to stimulate an intelligent interest in the subject of woman suffrage among the coming generation of citizens the Kentucky Equal Rights Association will offer $100 in prizes for the four best essays in favor of the enfranchisement of women. This contest will be open to all pupils in the private and public schools of the state.

Kentucky crude oil has taken another upward turn, the better grade being advanced to $1.85 and the inferior grade to 85 cents per barrel. The advances were 10 and 5 cents on the respective grades. Operators predict that the former high record prices of $2 and 90 cents on the two grades will again be quoted before the winter season is far advanced.

Dr. C. C. Owens, 53 years old, noted alienist and one of the most prominent physicians in Kentucky, died at his home, Covington, of injuries sustained in an accident at Latonia race course. In a rush for a car following the last race, Dr. Owens was thrown to the ground. Several persons fell on him. He suffered a fracture of his hip which was followed by complications.

Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican presidential nominee, invaded the mountain section of Eastern Kentucky last week. It was the task of the candidate to throw so much non-voting mountaineers that they could go to the polls on election day. A big barbecue was held in Pikeville. There were six speeches made, the last at Louisville.

What railroad officials believe was an attempt to derail the Hughes special was discovered just before the special left Paintsville. The inside flange on one of the rails had been smashed in such a way that the trackmen said it could only have been done by a sledge hammer. The break was discovered several minutes before the Hughes special was scheduled to leave and a new rail was put in place in a few minutes.

The Court of Appeals construed Section 139 B of the Kentucky Statutes which provides for the registration with the County Clerk the names of the persons comprising a firm, if the business is conducted under an assumed or fictitious name. The court holds that the statute is unconstitutional, being violative of Section 61 of the constitution in any case except where the name of the business is a fictitious or assumed name.

At a meeting of the Fifth District members of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association, comprising Kentucky and West Virginia, held in Lexington, Ky., a resolution opposing the proposed Stephens-Ashurst regulation price bill was unanimously adopted. The bill was characterized as detrimental to jobbing and retail interests and the dry goods men propose to wage an active campaign against the measure.

That practically all of the tobacco in Kentucky is housed is the statement of Commissioner of Agriculture Cohen in his crop report for October. It is curing well and is good in color, texture and quality. It is estimated that burley tobacco will yield 919 pounds per acre, and dark tobacco will yield 551 pounds per acre as a state average. This is a high estimate and runs about 78 and 77 pounds per acre, respectively, higher than last year's report.

Attorney Will D. Oldham, of Lexington, was fined $10 and costs and given four hours in which to appeal to the Circuit Court for an injunction against the enforcement of a jail sentence given him in Police Court for refusal to hold up his hand and swear or affirm the correctness of a property return in the Assessment Department of the city. Mr. Oldham pleaded conscientious scruples against taking an oath, holding that constitutional right is involved.

Budgeting of current expenses in keeping with the state's income and the issuance of bonds for a sufficient period of years to wipe out the present deficit of $4,200,000, as well as the enactment of a tax law that will justly distribute the burden, are among the remedies proposed to meet the state's financial problem by Max B. Nahn, of Bowling Green, President of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, in his annual address in Louisville before the annual convention of the state bankers.

Losses from hog cholera in Kentucky amounting to $2,000,000 annually were reduced one-half last year, according to statement of Dr. Robert Graham, head of the Department of Diseases of Live Stock at the experiment station at Lexington. The reduction has been accomplished by work at the hog cholera serum laboratory and by the campaign conducted by that department in the experiment station during the last six years. Records show during these years 20,000 hogs were vaccinated with a saving of 80.4 per cent of them.

One of the most unusual divorce suits ever filed in the Jefferson Circuit Court was disposed of when Judge A. M. Wallace informed the wife her petition had no standing. The plaintiff was married in 1888, to L. B. Crossfield. Three years later Crossfield disappeared. Six years later Mrs. Crossfield, believing her first husband dead, became the wife of Walter B. Fryer. Fryer and his wife lived happily together until August 3, 1916, when Crossfield, husband No. 1, was located at Frankfort, Ky. Three days after this discovery Mrs. Fryer filed suit to divorce husband No. 2.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

Owners of small farms who are supplying the market with poultry meat can do a neat stroke of business by preparing capons for high class restaurants, hotels and clubs. In handling a good sized poultry plant this branch of the business should have a place between the holidays and early summer. The heavier birds are worth the most per pound, so that when a seven pound capon brings 28 cents a pound, one weighing ten pounds is worth 30 to 32 cents a pound. There is this difference in the best markets. Therefore to be grown most profitably the fowls should be of a large type.

Experienced growers use such breeds as the Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte and Orpington. There are others perhaps equally good, but these are leaders. Capons fatten easily and economically. They can generally be forced to ten pounds at an age of eight or nine months. It should be the aim of the grower to get them just as large as possible by this age, or when market conditions are best. It is not wise to keep them longer than ten months.

As capons fatten easier than other fowls, there is not much difficulty in providing suitable rations. The birds are not to have too much range after being caponized, but in pleasant weather they will do well if they have the run of an acre or two. On such places they find a variety of seeds and insects which they relish. This is only for pleasant weather, however. It is useless to try to make chickens thrive in wet or stormy weather unless they are confined in dry quarters. Capons should be allowed all the corn that they will clean up in the morning and at noon. Then in the evening they should have a moist mash made up of equal parts of cornmeal, ground oats and wheat middlings. If they are not allowed field range they need about a 10 per cent addition of meat scraps in this mash. If skim milk is available it is excellent for moistening the mash, or it can be fed to them thick and sour. When it comes to close confinement in preparation for the market a mash of this kind should be given twice a day, with at least one feed of whole corn.

This class of poultry, or in fact any other kind, should be supplied with just such food as it will clean up quickly. The feeding troughs or pans ought to be cleaned every day. It is also part of the owner's duty to see that the smaller birds get their share of the food. In any flock there are fowls that bully the others, and to get uniformity it is sometimes necessary to have two or more pens for feeding. Not only is it necessary to feed regularly and abundantly, but the birds need to be quiet and comfortable. Excitement is bad for chickens in any stage of the poultry business. In the feeding of capons or other fowls clean water and grit should always be available.

While the owner of nearly every poultry plant can make it pay to have a few capons for a select trade, I do not urge the adoption of this branch of business to the exclusion of the production of broilers. I am quite sure that when a poultry owner sets out for meat production he will make money easier by selling the young cockerels at two months than by carrying them over to maturity, but there may be a surplus of them, and in this case it is a good policy to caponize the birds and fit them for market at eight to ten months. Any fair sized poultry plant can make it profitable to produce the various kinds of meat that are required by critical buyers, as well as to supply fresh eggs to their customers. In connection with a study of what the best trade demands one must learn methods of economical and safe feeding. This is a problem that may be easily solved where there are a few acres of land on which to operate the poultry plant.

Plant Wheat Late.

In a late bulletin the Pennsylvania state department of agriculture urges farmers to do their planting of wheat as late as possible this fall in order to avoid the Hessian fly pest, which causes most of the damage. Late plowing, it is pointed out, will destroy the eggs.

This was done with success in many Pennsylvania counties last year. Reports to the department indicate a big decline in the oats yield because of the weather conditions during the late summer and that cold wet weather has affected potato crops to a great extent.

Mr. R. G. Woods is building an attractive bungalow on the lot adjoining Mr. Fred Hall's residence, and Messrs Curry Rice and Sonny White have purchased lots from Mr. Jack Davis and will erect modern homes in a short time.

On October the eleventh promptly at ten o'clock Miss Dora Calico and Mr. Charles Friend, of Florence Indiana were united in marriage in the parlor of the Presbyterian manse by the brides pastor Rev. W. M. Eldridge. Only a few close friends and relatives were present and the only attendants were Miss Willie Mae Calico and Mr. Charles Gooch. The bride wore a dark blue cloth going away suit with hat and gloves to match. She is a young woman of rare sweetness of manner and strength of character. The groom is a prosperous young business man and is indeed to be congratulated upon the woman he has won. After an elaborate dinner at the home of the brides sister Mrs. Walter Newman, the happy couple left for Louisville for a stay of several days, after which they will be at home to their friends at Florence Indiana. The sincere good wishes of a wide circle of friends go with them into their new life.
